

Course Change - IAML and MLPR prohibited combination to add to DRPS

The following minor changes to the DRPS were approved by Sharon Goldwater as DHoLT curriculum. I also told Stuart about them, who had no comments. Chris Williams agreed.

1. For 2019/20 please add a prohibited combination between the level 11 IAML course (INFR11182) and MLPR (INFR11130).
2. Please also add something to the level 10 IAML (INFR10069) that says MSc students must take the level 11 version (INFR11182) instead.

The above change formally encodes what happened this year anyway, through guidance from PTs.

To confirm: our undergrads can continue to take both the level 10 IAML (INFR10069) and MLPR. They won't usually take them in the same year (and I'd advise them not to), but I don't think it's important to enforce that or encode it in the DRPS.
