

Connect to Wi-Fi for visitors

Eduroam Access

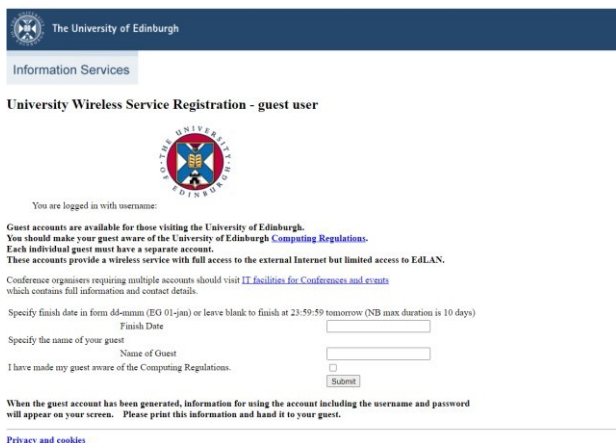

The JANET Roaming Service (eduroam) enables visitors to the University of Edinburgh to gain access to the Internet using the same username and password as they use at their home institution. See link here: eduroam access for visitors to the University prerequisites:

- Your home institution must be a member of the JANET Roaming service, or one of the other global eduroam federations
- You must be registered to use the eduroam service at your home institution Further information on how to connect to JANET is available here.

Non Eduroam guest Wi-Fi access

Any non- University member visiting for educational or research purposes, and who cannot access the eduroam service, may be registered to use the wi-fi service by a member of staff associated with their visit to the university. Contact the Institutes Admin team for assistance with this.

The member of staff creating the guest account must take responsibility for the network activity of their guest and must make the guest aware of the University Computing Regulations. The username and password are auto generated with the user details and instructions displayed on the screen for local printing. Guest accounts last for a maximum of 10 days. If the guest expects to stay longer than this, then they should be assigned a UUN by the Visitor Registration System (VRS), after which they should register with the EASE authentication system and then use their Office 365 login to connect to the Wi-Fi service. Contact the Institutes Administration Team for assistance with this.

The screenshot shows the 'University Wireless Service Registration - guest user' form. At the top, it features the University of Edinburgh logo and the text 'Information Services'. Below this, the title 'University Wireless Service Registration - guest user' is displayed. A small circular logo of the University of Edinburgh is centered. The form contains the following text and fields:

You are logged in with username:

Guest accounts are available for those visiting the University of Edinburgh. You should make your guest aware of the University of Edinburgh Computing Regulations. Each individual guest must have a separate account. These accounts provide a wireless service with full access to the external Internet but limited access to EdLAN.

Conference organisers requiring multiple accounts should visit IT facilities for Conferences and events which contains full information and contact details.

Specify finish date in form dd-mm-yy (EG 01-jun) or leave blank to finish at 23:59:59 tomorrow (NB max duration is 10 days)

Finish Date

Specify the name of your guest

Name of Guest

I have made my guest aware of the Computing Regulations.

When the guest account has been generated, information for using the account including the username and password will appear on your screen. Please print this information and hand it to your guest.

Privacy and cookies

Bulk Wi-fi Accounts

For large scale events, the organiser may request up to 100 bulk Wi-Fi accounts from the Learning Space Technology department. Email: learningspacestechnology@ed.ac.uk with your University username and email address and ask for access to create in bulk, or contact them on 0131 650 4097.

For further information and FAQs on connecting to Wi-Fi, click here